Welcome to Fr Alfred Joseph: who is looking after the parish whilst I am away during August. I am very grateful that he has agreed to come to our parish and I am sure that you will make him feel very welcome and look after him. Please remember that every place has its own way of doing things, that every priest is different and that when you are a visiting priest you don't know what happens in another in place in a particular way. I look forward to celebrating the Sunday morning mass with Fr Alfred on the 31st of August before he returns to his studies in Germany.

Thank you: to everyone who has helped in any way over the last twelve months. It has been a very busy year with lots of things happening. The good things to celebrate have gone extremely well and people have been very supportive of each other in the sad times we have had to face. As a parish we are pilgrims walking together, trying to help each other realise that Christ is present amongst us in whatever situation we find ourselves in life. I am ready for a rest now but I know that by the time I come back I will be very much looking forward to being back in the parish and the year ahead with you all and Christ as our leader. The rest we place in God's hands. As it was said in a film recently; 'The past is history, the future is mystery, but today is a gift'. That is why it is called the present.' Have a safe summer, God bless you and adios (which literally means the rest 'to God').

*As you love each other,
grow in the love of God.
As you give yourselves to each other,
God gives himself to you.
As you share your lives together,
God shares his life with you
As you grow in awareness of each other,
grow in awareness of God.
Let his love encircle your love.
Let His life fill your lives.
Let Him bind you as one together
And one with Him.*
